

ChatGPT's Valentine's Day poem for

London

London, a city of history and grace,
Where culture thrives and time takes pace.
With streets of gold and red phone booths,
It's the perfect place for you and me, both.

With endless sights to see and explore,
From Big Ben to Buckingham, and so much more.
We'll take a stroll through Hyde Park's green,
And create memories that will always be seen.

In this city where kings and queens once reigned,
We'll walk hand in hand and love will be sustained.
With each moment shared, our hearts will grow,
Forever in London, our love will show.

So let's take a leap and make this vow,
To love and cherish each day, right now.
Together in London, our love will shine,
Forever and always, yours and mine.
